Celebrities, sports and cheese on the menu at the Royal Bath & West Show

The Royal Bath & West Show returns on 1–3 June 2023, with popular features returning and new ones being introduced.

The Great British Kitchen enjoyed a highly successful debut show in 2022, with its free-to-attend cooking demonstrations proving popular. This year the show's organisers have invited a wonderful variety of food gurus to inspire visitors, offering a range of dishes and cocktails too!

The three days will be hosted by Lisa Cadd, the 'Fuss-Free Foodie', who will be joined by Cocktail mixer Andy Clarke. The Royal Bath & West Show is delighted to welcome Matt Tebbutt of Saturday Kitchen Live and Food Unwrapped fame to the kitchen on 1st June, and he will be followed by 'This Morning's Phil Vickery on 2nd June. On the final day of the show The Great British Kitchen will have a Caribbean feel with Wilfred Emmanuel-Jones MBE, 'The Black Farmer'.

If cheese is your thing, then you will love the Cheese Marquee, located in the Gift & Lifestyle area opposite the Main Ring. This new feature for 2023 will showcase the best of the cheese world in the surrounding area, as well as delicious cheese accompaniments. With delicacies from Barbers, Bath Soft Cheese and Stockans amongst the vendors, you are bound to find something delicious.

After all this tasting, head over to the enhanced Sports Village, being supported this year by the Bath Rugby Foundation and Shepton Mallet Football Club, to burn off the calories.

Jess Chiplen, Head of Shows, says "Foodies will be spoilt for choice this year, with our exciting line-up of chefs in The Great British Kitchen and the new Cheese Marquee to explore. We can't wait to hear what you all think of it!"

Ticket prices have been frozen for the third Show in a row, with Advance Saver Tickets starting from £22 per adult. Each Advance Saver ticket also allows FREE admission for two children, making the Royal Bath & West Show a great value day out. Visit www.bathandwest.com/tickets to book.
